ANTARCTICA

An illustrated talk by Neil Spencer

3pm Friday 14th April Caynham Village Hall

Neil joined the British Antarctic Survey in October 2016 for an 18 month tour of duty. His talk, illustrated by his own superb photographs, will cover some of the history of the BAS, the science, the weather, some wildlife and lots of fantastic scenery – plus the most amazing vehicles! He'll also describe the dramatic developments that resulted in an early return to the UK.

Entrance: £5 adults, £3 schoolchildren (most suitable for age 10+)

To include tea/coffee/soft drinks and cake

Please let Paula Spencer or David Faulkner know if you will be attending

Business rates increase: you probably know of the recent changes to business rates. The increases are particularly high in central Ludlow, amounting to over 80% in Broad Street. One small shop will face an extra annual charge of £1500. This poses a serious threat to the character and facilities of Ludlow. If you are concerned, there are paper petitions you can sign in some shops and an online petition at <https://petition.parliament.uk/petitions/175433>. You can also write to Ludlow's MP, Philip Dunne (see <http://www.philipdunne.com/contact>).
