Coronavirus restrictions

Can you help? Do you need help?

The recommendations that the over-70s should stay at home and the requirements that those exposed to the virus should self isolate will make simple tasks such as shopping quite difficult. Online shopping may help and some local traders are offering home deliveries, but these won't cover everyone's needs.

We would like to publish contact details of residents who are prepared to help to do shopping or run errands etc. This will appear on the website and be updated regularly. Please contact David Faulkner or Terry Anley if you would like to be included (or see the website <http://www.caynham.eclipse.co.uk/index.html>)

Big Breakfast: despite the weather, the Breakfast raised £100 for the Village Hall. Thanks to Gill and John Bissell, Tony Pike, Carol and Richard Powell and Paula Spencer for making the event possible and to those who so generously supported it.

Local reading charity celebrates a successful first year.

Read Easy Shropshire Hills, which helps adults who struggle with reading, has got off to a flying start as it celebrates its first year. In fact, with 10 local people learning to read and 16 trained coaches, the group has exceeded all expectations.

It's taken for granted that we all learned to read and write at school, and that we all have the same reading ability. However, many thousands of adults missed out on this opportunity at the time when the basic foundations of reading skills are learned. In fact, research shows that over 7% of adults have never learned to read. That's a huge number of people who can't read forms or letters, follow medicine instructions, or read a new recipe for example.

'Learning to read with Read Easy has been amazing!'

These are the words that Cath uses to describe her feelings about learning to read with our support. Cath is a local farmer who had to rely on her family to complete all the farm paperwork. She was introduced to Read Easy by a friend who wanted to help and she became one of our first new readers. As Cath says 'At my age I never thought I'd be doing anything like this. I have tried so many ways to learn in the past but it has always been too difficult. I have a fantastic teacher and I've really enjoyed being taught'. Our free service is run by volunteers and is supported by local shops, cafes and businesses who are happy to provide a private space for coaching sessions. We match up each new reader with a trained reading coach and they work together through reading manuals at their own pace twice a week at a time to suit them both. There's no pressure and no exams to worry about. It's as easy as that! It is very important that all of our readers feel as comfortable as possible about learning with Read Easy which is why we have protected Cath's true identity.

Life changing results

After just a few short months Cath says 'These lessons have made a huge difference in my day to day life. It's given me more confidence to do things that I simply couldn't do before. Each Christmas we always get a card from my husband's cousin with a note inside. This year I read the message automatically without even thinking about it – my family were so impressed.'

Free coaching in South Shropshire and the Welsh borders.

It's never too late to learn! If you know someone in the local area who you think would benefit from our service, we would love to hear from you. For a confidential conversation please call Amana (07707 762653 or shropshirehills@readeasy.org.uk).
